HYGIENE REGULATIONS OFFICE –
DO YOU NEED ASSISTANCE?

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen, is your company thoroughly prepared for the return of employees to the office?

Many companies currently have employees working in their home offices, but would like to return to the office step by step. The challenge of getting back some normality into the office, is challenging with the ongoing corona pandemic.

In order to best protect employees from infection with the virus, various steps have been recommended after an initial risk assessment. As far as possible, premises should be adapted to ensure sufficient distance between workplaces. Partition walls and Plexiglas panels are suitable for this purpose. Furthermore, appropriate disinfectant should be provided.

We at bergertextiles have discussed this issue with our partners and created the bergertextiles #WeCare platform as a unified network. Here we show solutions that some of our partners are already implementing with bergertextiles materials. At the moment we are mainly talking about disinfection stations, partition walls, information signs and makeshift mouth-nose masks.

We will show you examples of how you can equip your office to comply with hygiene regulations. At the same time, you can point-out important information, increase the feel-good factor and thus create a pleasant workplace for your employees.

Stretch frames protect against direct droplet infection through the lotus effect which makes the textile waterproof.

We are happy to establish contacts with our customers who manufacture the corresponding products.
We wish you good luck and health in mastering the difficult Covid-19 situation. Stay healthy.

Partition walls are ideal for dividing and structuring the open-office. They also create a pleasant atmosphere thanks integrated lighting.
